Part I Writing

参考范文：

With their valuable skills and experience, elderly people can continue to make significant contributions to society. I fully agree with this view since elderly people outperform young people in skills and experience and with these advantages they can still contribute a lot to society.

Firstly, elderly people, with their expertise and rich experience can do better than young people in many fields. Let's take an example of education. Elderly teachers in school, with years of teaching experience, know better how to inspire students and they are good at teaching students in accordance with their aptitude. Young teachers still need to learn teaching skills under the elderly teachers' expert guidance. Thus, elderly teachers can make great contributions towards education. Furthermore, elderly people can deal with difficult problems. For example, facing cases with complicated symptoms, elderly doctors can make accurate diagnosis thanks to their professional skills and rich experience. And young doctors have a lot to learn from those elderly doctors. Therefore, elderly doctors play an important role in medical care.

To sum up, elderly people can continue to make great contributions to society with their valuable skills and experience. They can play an active role in various fields of the society.

Part IV Translation

参考译文：

In recent years, the elderly population in China has continued to grow. The Chinese government is taking various measures to promote the construction of the elderly care service system, so that the elderly can live a healthy and happy life in their later years. Various types of elderly care service institutions have been built nationwide. In order to enhance the service quality of elderly care institutions, the government has issued a series of standards to improve the supervision of elderly care institutions. To facilitate dining for the elderly, community canteens have been opened in many cities, providing them with affordable meals. Elderly people with limited mobility can also enjoy door-to-door meal delivery services. At the same time, China is actively exploring other elderly care models such as home-based and community care to ensure that all elderly people are taken care of.
