Part I Writing

参考范文：

On March 12, 2023, I participated in a career planning seminar, which consisted of three parts—alumni experience sharing, interactive discussions, and a Q & A session.

To begin with, some alumni shared with us their personal experiences about job hunting and offered us some insightful tips on exploring career options. I was quite impressed by one alumnus' clear career plan, various hard and soft skills and excellent internship experience. Secondly, the seminar included interactive discussions where employers from various enterprises discussed job trends, which were vital to the success of long-term career planning. In the following Q & A session, alumni and employers enthusiastically answered plenty of questions about career planning.

In conclusion, the seminar, to a large extent, has helped me realize the necessity of career planning. Undoubtedly, we should attach great importance to planning our career, acquiring diverse skills, gaining internship experience, and keeping up with the latest job trends. Only in this way can we achieve a long-term career success.

Part IV Translation

参考译文：

With the improvement of living standards, more people begin to join the ranks of self-driving tours. Self-driving tourists can either drive their own cars, or borrow or rent a car. The driver may be the owner of the car or the traveling companion. Different from a traditional group tour, a self-driving tour can better meet the personalized needs of tourists and enable them to better enjoy the travel. Self-driving tours are especially popular with young travelers. Young people pursue an independent and free life, and a self-driving tour just meets their needs.
