Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a senior of Peking University who is majoring in Education. I am writing this letter to express my interest in the rural volunteer teaching program.

The reasons why I want to apply for this program are as follows. In the first place, this project offers me a valuable chance to put the novel teaching theory and techniques I have learned in college into practice. In addition, through previous volunteering experience, I have developed enthusiasm and passion for teaching. Finally, as a university student equipped with strong communication and interpersonal skills, I believe that I can accomplish the volunteering work, such as teaching students and organizing extra-curricular activities, in an excellent way.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this application and I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours Sincerely,

Li Ming

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am Li Hua, a junior in our school. I am very glad to hear that our school will hold activities on Teachers' Day. I would like to write a proposal to explain my suggestions to you.

First of all, it is an interesting and creative activity for students to prepare colorful performances to their teachers. The teachers will be delighted to see the students' splendid performances. Besides, we can prepare a special notebook, which is full of what students want to say to the teacher, including all kinds of blessings, appreciations and heartfelt words. Last but not least, we can prepare a joint game between teachers and students, which can not only let teachers and students relax, but also further promote the harmonious relationship between teachers and students.

I hope my suggestion will be accepted by you. Thank you for your time and consideration. I am looking forward to your early reply.

Yours,

Li Hua

According to traditional customs of Chinese folk, elders usually give red envelopes, commonly known as lucky money, to their children to express blessings and wish them good luck during the Spring Festival.

Nowadays, red envelopes are not only a gift for children, but often for elders, relatives and friends as well. In recent years, WeChat red envelopes have become increasingly popular as the number of WeChat users has increased. When celebrating the Spring Festival, people often send each other WeChat red envelopes to express their greetings, which is undoubtedly a convenient way to connect with distant relatives and friends.
