Part I Writing

参考范文：

Nowadays parents are increasingly aware that allowing kids more freedom to explore and learn on their own helps foster their independence and boost their confidence.

They finally figure out the fact that since kids are born to be curious about the world, granting them such freedom can help them develop an independent and confident personality, which is beneficial to their growth.

For one thing, allowing kids to learn and explore independently enables them to do things on their own. Kids have an instinct for exploring the world by themselves. In the process of exploration, children need to constantly imagine and try, which help develop an independent character. Once parents give them more freedom, they can do many things independently. For another thing, kids can gain self-confidence in the process of free exploration and learning. They may encounter failures and setbacks, but as long as they persevere and keep trying, they will achieve success and a sense of accomplishment, which will surely help boost their confidence to better face future challenges.

To conclude, parents allowing kids more freedom to explore and learn on their own can make them more independent and confident. It has beneficial effect on the growth of kids in the long run.
