Part I Writing

参考范文：

People are now increasingly aware of the challenges in making a decision when faced with too many choices. We are faced with various choices since our childhood, such as choosing friends, schools, careers and so on. Different choices will surely bring different lives. Therefore, it is of great significance to make decisions carefully.

From my perspective, there are both positive and negative aspects no matter what choice is made. Take us college students as an example. We are about to graduate and will face a dilemma of choosing whether to take the postgraduate entrance exam or hunt for jobs after graduation. On the one hand, pursuing postgraduate study can help us improve our academic level and lay a solid foundation for our future career development, while also requiring a lot of time and effort. On the other hand, going to work allows you to enter the workplace earlier and gain practical experience, as well as a certain amount of money. But in an increasingly competitive society, your career development may be limited by not having a distinguished educational background.

In short, any decision has two sides. We need to take our own actual situation into account in order to make a wiser choice.

Zheng He was the most outstanding navigator in Chinese history. He showed extraordinary wisdom and talent in many fields such as navigation, diplomacy and military affairs. He led a huge fleet of ships on seven long voyages and visited many countries and regions in the Western Pacific and the Indian Ocean, deepening the mutual understanding between China and Southeast Asia and East Africa.

Zheng He's voyages to the western oceans played a very positive role in promoting economic and cultural exchanges between China and foreign countries, and also made great contributions to the maintenance of regional peace. In order to forever remember Zheng He and his great achievements, July 11, the day when Zheng He first set sail for a long voyage with his fleet of ships, was designated as China's Maritime Day.
